

ADVICE FROM PRESIDENT BRYCE

You are living at the greatest time in history.

You are now at the most important crossroads of your life. You will make more important decisions that will affect you for longer, than at any time in your life.

Here are some important questions you need to ask yourself and answer for your benefit.

Why am I going to college?

(Knowing WHY you are doing something will provide meaning and give you strength to make it through the tough times.)

Are you willing to assume personal responsibility and pay the price to succeed?
(Will you make your own decisions or just blindly follow or blame others?)

What are my values? Am I prepared and determined to live by my values?

Are you thinking and planning strategically?

Strategy is identifying your important objectives and planning HOW to achieve them.

When are you going to get up in the morning?

When are you going to sleep at night?

When are you going to exercise?

When are you going to study? Where are you going to study?

What are you good at? Ask others.

What do you enjoy doing?

What is your major? Why is it your major?

If you don't have a major, what process are you going to use to determine one?

If I continue on my current path, where will I be in:

1 year? 2 years? 5 years? 10 years? 20 years? 30 years?

Ask: Am I on board the train or the jet to my chosen future?

(Or am I sitting at the station/airport terminal?)

Take time to think, meditate, and strategize every day.

Enjoy the journey—Enjoy the Adventure. Let JOY be what motivates you.

My greatest fear for you is that you will fail to recognize how great you are.

We have every confidence in your ability to succeed, if you will fight for victory!

Please know that you are never alone.

We at EAC are with you all the way!
